Dry-Air Refrigerator

Is an ordinary one, similar to those sold by other dealers. They differ from them in the most important points. They have no zinc linings in the provision room. Refrigerators are lined with zinc because their faulty construction makes it necessary, the air in them being so damp that they would swell and warp out of shape if they were not lined. The presence of zinc lining is a practical confession of its dampness ... food ... L. M. Bingham, M. D., Surgeon General, Vt., says: "There is as much danger from keeping food in illy-constructed refrigerators, as from sewer gas escaping inside the dwelling." ... They cost but little more than others.

Cancer of Tongue!

A Case Resembling that of Gen. Grant.

Some ten years ago I had a scrofulous sore on my right hand which gave me great trouble, and under the old time treatment was healed up, and I supposed I was well. I found, however it had only been driven into the system by the use of potash and mercury, and in March, 1882, it broke out in my throat and concentrated in what some of the doctors denominated cancer. I was placed under treatment for this disease. Some six or seven of the best physicians in the country had me at different times under their charge among them three specialists in this line, but one after another would exhaust their skill and drop me, for I grew worse continually. The cancer had eaten through my cheek destroying the roof of my mouth and upper lip, then attacked my tongue, palate and lower lip, destroying the palate and lower lip entirely and half my tongue eating out to the ... of my left cheek bone and up to the left eye. From a hearty robust woman of 150 pounds I was reduced to a mere frame of skin and bones, almost unable to turn myself in bed. I could not eat any solid food but subsisted on liquids and my tongue was so far gone I could not talk. The ... of the horrible sufferings of body which I experienced I never can be revealed. Given up by physicians to die, with no hope of recovery ... of friends who sat around my bed ... expecting every moment to be my last. In fact, my husband would place his hand on me every now and then to see whether I was alive or not, and at one time all believed that I was dead and my death was reported all over the country.

Such was my wretched and hopeless condition the first of last October (1884), when my friends commenced giving me Swift's Specific. In less than a month the ... places at ... cheek commenced ... and the ... aperture in my cheek has been closed ... firmly knitted together ... process of a new ... lip is progressing nicely and the tongue which was almost destroyed is being recovered and it seems that nature is supplying a new tongue. I can talk so that my friends can readily understand me, and I can ... food again. I am able to walk about wherever I please without the assistance of any one and I have gained fifty pounds of flesh. All this is due to the blessing of a merciful Heavenly Father, the ... due to Swift's Specific. I am now able to attend to all my ... friends hundreds of whom have known my intense sufferings ... visit ... Where I ... entirely well yet my ... is ... to the ... I am confident that a perfect recovery is now in sight. If any ... the above facts I would refer them to Hon. ... Traylor, State Senator of this district, who is my neighbor, Dr. T. S. Bradfield, of LaGrange ... or to any other person ... in the southern part of Troupe County.

STATE NEWS

Androscoggin

News has been received in Lewiston of the sudden death of Hon. Dudley P. Hall of Lyndon, Vt. Mr. Hall was one of the principal lumber merchants of New England, and a well known and respected public man. Mr. Hall was intending ... in Lewiston during the Bates commencement and to spend a portion of the summer at Squirrel Island.

Hardly a city official was to be found in Lewiston Tuesday. The mayor went to Portland at noon. About the corridors of the City building it was voiceless and silent. The day janitor was occupying the city clerk's office at noon and was assuming the dignity of city clerk, mayor, city treasurer, clerk of the water board, clerk of court, school superintendent and judge. He said that it was a very ... thing.

Jud Richards drove the Fairview into Lewiston at 10.45 Monday evening and on Haymarket square a jolly crowd of the boys and girls of the graduating class of '85, of the Lewiston High school poured out. It was a glorious afternoon and evening for the class. They supped at the Mansion House at Poland Spring and in ... sport for the guests by a game of base ball in which two of the bright young ladies of the class were pitchers. There were just eighteen in the party—enough exactly for two base ball nines. One of the young ladies living not far from Poland Spring entertained the class in the evening.

Lewiston and Auburn's streets presented a gayer than ... and unusual appearance ... one which we venture will not be repeated for many years. Although fairly ... in the ... the forenoon with passing teams and the loaded horse cars for the lakes, no business was done in front of stirring curtains and placards of "Dinner" upon both sides of the street. A stranger, Lewiston would have looked like a sleeping city. The ... who had forgotten to order his ... dinner would have ... market fronts, although some ... the ... stores were open ... from the two cities was ... at noon. At noon the banks closed and hung out their placards. Additional crowds took the afternoon trains for Lake Grove and picnicked on the breezy water. Local excursion parties went to Poland Spring. The ... employees say that it was the biggest day's work ... of Lewiston. The Grand Trunk trains were overcrowded. In spite of the ... excellence of equipment furnished for the day the trains were overflowed. Nearly two hundred members of Custer Post with Perkins full band went by the morning train at 7.30. Trains began ... and every half hour during the forenoon thousands of people went by these trains. The Maine Central carried immense crowds through from Brunswick ... Lewiston.

Aroostook

The projectors ... of ... water works at Presque Isle.

Pomona Grange met with the Caribou Grange the 18th inst. Fourteen new members were initiated. The committee on potato raising in Aroostook reported the business has been a success financially and in better cultivated farms but that in the future it would not be wise to cultivate so largely. The Grange discussed the dairy question quite exhaustively and the opinion seemed to prevail that less potatoes and more butter and cheese would be to the advantage of all concerned. There were about two hundred present and all seemed happy. It was voted to hold the next Pomona Grange with the Ashland Grange the 19th of August, and to go from there the next day to Portage Lake, where they will picnic, boat and fish camping at the lake over night.

Cumberland

A man had his pocket picked of $100 in Portland, Tuesday. The supposed thief was pursued and arrested, but no money was found on him.

Gov. Robie says that the receipts from the State, the city of Portland, the G. A. R. and citizens amount to $20,000. He expects to get five or six thousand dollars more from the railroads. This will be sufficient to pay all expenses.

Capt. Leander Marshall of the schooner Lizzie Bradley, while on his last cruise fishing from Port Clyde, caught a fish and upon his throwing it upon the deck of his vessel the fish threw from its stomach a five-cent nickel.

The Salvation Army is doing good work in Brunswick. The prejudice which was felt toward them at first, is changing to respect. Capt. Skolfield generously swung open to them the gates to his beautiful private grounds—"The Terrace"—and amid his mansion. There, from the green banks, they talked of deliverance.

Burglars entered a residence on New High street, Portland, Tuesday, while the procession was moving. They unlocked a door and going up stairs pressed in the panel of a door and slipped the bolt, then broke the casing from another door. All that was missed was about $5 in money and two gold rings. They were evidently frightened away.

Tuesday, Emil Liebling, of Chicago, was robbed of his pocket-book containing $150, besides some valuable papers on the Grand Trunk train, as it was passing along Commercial street, Portland, towards the Boston and Maine depot. Mr. Liebling thinks the pocket-book was taken from the breast pocket of his coat by one of three young men who jostled against him as he was stepping along to the door of the car.

On Thursday of last week, the whaling steamer Mabel Bird, left Portland for a whaling cruise. Steering easterly twenty-five miles she came across two humpbacked whales. After a chase of two hours she succeeded in shooting one with the bomb lance, which exploded and killed him instantly. A line was got around his tail and he was towed to Boothbay disemboweled, packed with salt and ice, put on a large scow and towed to Portland, where he is now on exhibition at the smelting works just off the encampment ground.

Franklin.

Wilton proposes to celebrate the glorious Fourth. A substantial committee has been organized and a programme arranged as follows: Salute of one hundred guns and bell ringing at sunrise; procession of antiques and horribles at half past eight, a prize is offered for the most original and striking feature in the procession; at one o'clock an oration by Col. Jacob Kemple, of West Virginia, followed by boat races and foot races of various kinds; grand display of fireworks in the evening.

Kennebec

...Smith has been arrested in Waterville and placed in jail in Augusta. He has consented to marry Bridget Geoghan who attempted to commit suicide by drowning the past week.

The erection of the Salvation Army barracks in Augusta is now well assured. A building association has been formed with Mr. Thomas Baker as president and treasurer. The building committee consists of W. A. Blackman, Orrin Williamson, Chas. F. Nash, Albert J. Fuller and Warren Estes. A committee of twenty-two citizens has been raised to solicit funds to be devoted to the erection of the building.

Whig and Courier.

BOUTELLE & BURR, PROPRIETORS.

L. A. BOUTELLE, Editor.

All business letters should be addressed to Boutelle & Burr, and communications intended for publication should be addressed Editor of Whig and Courier.

FRIDAY, JUNE 26, 1885.

Bowdoin College honored itself yesterday in conferring the honorary degree of LL. D. upon Chief Justice Peters and Associate Justice Walton, of the Supreme Bench.

In view of the report that the Cabinet is in favor of the recall of Minister Kelley the New York World suggests that he be sent to Kamtchatka to look after future fugitives from Arctic exploring yachts.

Nearly every Republican official in North Carolina has been turned out and a Democrat appointed in his place, and the Raleigh News exultingly says that the State is now in the hands of its friends.

The Grand Army veterans will hold their next annual encampment in California. It is said that the State is agreed to appropriate $25,000 and that people of San Francisco will probably raise as much more.

The Democratic papers that are comparing the lynching of a black man in Coshocton, O., to the murder of colored men by their party in the South should remember that Coshocton County gave Cleveland 630 majority.

Believing that they have lost Ohio Democrats are looking anxiously at New York and wondering whether one Mugwump appointment will be enough to keep the fellows in the line and make them willing to sweat at the polls.

Congressman Abram Hewitt, of New York, announces that he will not be the Democratic candidate for Governor. Mr. Hewitt is wise in that respect. He is evidently imbued with the idea that this is an off year for the Democrats of the Empire State.

The Boston Globe is authority for the statement that while Hubert O. Thompson will not get the New York collectorship no one will be appointed against his wishes and he will be the controlling political power behind the new collector. Such a deal as that would be a reform movement the satisfactory explanation of which would be a severe strain upon the Mugwump papers.

Secretary Whitney's letter to the Attorney-General about the Dolphin and the Lowell Courier, bears evidence in every line of an eagerness to make political capital, and a determination that no possible means shall be omitted of discovering or inventing a pretext for his proposed refusal to accept the vessel or if that cannot be done, of throwing odium on the department conducted by his predecessor.

Postmaster Judd of Chicago is at Washington for the purpose of getting the civil service rules modified so that he can appoint certain subordinates regardless of the Civil Service Commission. Unless this change is made Mr. Judd intimates that he will resign. He has stated that easy to the Attorney General who it is said fully agrees with him. This modification is of course strictly in the interest of reform of the Democratic type.

The Milton Telegraph (Dem.) says: "The South has established nothing of which she is ashamed or afraid, nor for which she is disposed to ask the forgetfulness of any body." Such sentiments as this at every time when the noble defenders of the Union are holding their annual encampment is simply an insult to patriotism but shows that the alleged repentance of the ex-Confederate is only skin deep.

The New York World in an article on the collectorship refers to the services of Collector Roberts in the following complimentary terms: "He leaves the Custom House with the good will of every one who has been brought into official relations with him. He has been conspicuous for his courtesy and his attention to business, and he has been the only collector who has always kept open doors and been accessible during business hours."

The New York Herald of Sunday had an editorial under the headline "He cannot be moved," in which the writer congratulates the country on having a President that cannot be moved by friends or foes. It is only about a week ago that the same paper was denouncing the same President for allowing himself to be "run by his Attorney General who succeeded in bringing about several illegally made appointments." Consistency is a stranger in the Herald office.

When Macklin was convicted of being the central figure in the outrageous frauds perpetrated in the Chicago election last fall it was stated that he had retired from his position as Secretary of the Cook County Democratic Committee, but it seems that such was not the case as his name appears in connection with the official call for the Democratic primaries. Nothing could better illustrate the character of the Chicago ring management than this official announcement that a man under sentence to the penitentiary has resigned his position on the Democratic Committee.

At the business meeting of the National Encampment yesterday, Hon. Samuel S. Burdett, of Washington, was elected Commander in Chief to succeed Commander Kountz. The new Commander served as Captain in the First Iowa Cavalry, has served two terms in Congress and has been twice chosen Commander of the Department of the Potomac. He is a prominent member of the legal profession at Washington. Gen. Selden Connor was elected Senior Vice Commander by acclamation, a compliment that will be appreciated by the veterans of this State.

The Democratic newspapers, says the Tribune, are greatly concerned about the Grand Army reunion at Portland this week. They are trying to make it appear that the veterans are likely to cause trouble if they are not furnished with whiskey, contrary to the laws of Maine. As a rule the Democratic press was never fond of the veterans of the late war, and, of course, the insinuation that "the question of the day" with them is how they can best break the law, is nothing less than libellous. The veterans knew all about Maine's prohibitory law before they fixed on Portland as the place in which to hold their reunion. They have said nothing to cause this discussion, but perhaps Democrats should be excused for reverting to the subject of whiskey in these dull times, as it is the one thing they know the most about.

Senator Vest, of Missouri, is not so much of an admirer of the Administration as he was. He called recently at the Post Office Department where he was unable to secure an audience with Mr. Vilas who refused to see political callers on that day, and then to cap the climax he was refused permission to examine the applications on file for post offices in his State. This sent him to the White House, in a towering passion, but he failed to secure the desired consolation and in disgust informed the President that the Missouri Democrats were highly dissatisfied with his manner of doing business.

The following gentle reminders to the Administration are from the Washington Republican, and are specimens of the chunks of wisdom administered daily by that paper:

"Turn the rascals out, but if you can find them, give the devil to stop hounding honest men and women in order to make room for yawning their places.

"I am holding the nation over the Administration to Congress. But, all the same, you owe your allegiance to the holiness days. Call it the Administration. Naturally it brought comfort to Hell at this point.

"Why do you attempt to disgrace the men and disparage the means to which the Democratic Administration owes its existence? This is the question that comes up from Mississippi to the White House in response to the call for Maine's resignation.

"Creating vacancies under slanderous pretexts is so much worse than the spoils system of the old time Democracy as playing hypocrite is worse than open upright, truth loving man."

Mr. Beecher has given the cue to his fellow Mugwumps. When his son received from the Administration an appointment to a Collectorship on the Pacific Coast, he protested with his usual effusiveness that he had not asked for the office, nor for any other favor and that the appointment had been made without his knowledge or consent. In like manner the New York Times with a precipitate rush gives notice that the appointment of a member of its staff as Consul General at Rome has not been urged, requested or recommended by any body connected with that office, and that it has not to be construed as an official recognition of the services of the Times in defeating the Republican candidates. This explanation, of course, is not meant to be serious. It must be considered as a sample of the humorous articles which are to appear in the Times in Mr. Abbott's absence. We congratulate a metropolitan journalist whose talents and industry have elicited Executive recognition upon the Tribune, but it is necessary to add that Democratic President is not recruiting the diplomatic service from Republican newspaper offices. He shows his favors where they will be appreciated and where they have been earned.

Sail Down the Harbor.

PORTLAND, June 25. Several thousand of the veterans in the encampment on the Eastern Promenade marched in various groups early this morning to the steamboat wharves where they embarked for a sail down the harbor. Others took the trains for Old Orchard, while others still have gone to the White Mountains. The weather as has been the case on every other day of the encampment is glorious. Not a cloud can be seen, and while the day is hotter than any of the others of the present week not there is a strong breeze blowing directly from the ocean. It is comfortable and a better day for the numerous excursions to which the veterans are being treated could not have been wished for. The streets are still crowded with citizens and visitors, and the city has lost none of its holiday and festive appearance. A few of the posts left for home this morning, but not in sufficient numbers to make the observance noticeable from the many thousands of veterans still here.

The idea that the city of Portland had enrolled a vast number of extra police was a protection to the citizens from the Grand Army is ridiculed by the authorities. The extra police were intended as a safeguard against pickpockets and those who it is thought would be induced by the opportunities presented of [illegible] the folly of [illegible] visitors. Then it was thought that an extra police would be required to [illegible] the liquor law but if such an idea was entertained it was promptly abandoned. There has been no attempt to enforce that law. Not a seizure of liquor has been made this week, as against [illegible] average of twenty seizures weekly prior to the present time.

At this Morning's Executive Session of the National Encampment, a resolution was offered by Comrade Bennett of Illinois providing for the suitable recognition of Dr. Benj. Stevens as the founder of the Grand Army of the Republic and recommending that National subscriptions from the National Encampment be requested for this purpose. This was referred to the Committee on Resolutions. Commander-in-Chief Kountz made a brief address, after which a resolution was adopted adverse to the consolidation of the Sons of Veterans with the Grand Army. A telegram was read from Gen. Grant thanking the encampment for its resolutions of sympathy. Comrade Pitch read a communication from Comrade Brothers of Massachusetts, presenting an accompanying portrait of Gen. Grant. It was unanimously moved that the portrait be received, appropriately framed and sent to the family of Gen. Grant. A resolution was adopted, on motion of Comrade Noyes, of Delaware, appropriating $500 for "Mother" Bickerdike for her faithful and kind services as a nurse during the war.

Comrade Hall, of Maine, offered resolutions which were adopted eulogistic of Past Commander Winsor B. Smith, who died suddenly in this city this morning. It was voted that the next annual encampment be held some time between October and May. A recommendation that Memorial Day shall be observed on the Sabbath was adopted.

The committee to whom was referred yesterday Comrade Loring's resolutions in favor of the $8 per month pension bill reported adversely and there was a minority report in its favor by Comrade Graves, of Michigan. The adverse report was adopted after a protracted debate and the encampment has thus refused to commit itself in favor of the $8 bill.

During the session Pension Commissioner Black, Governor Robie, of Maine, and Governor Alger, of Michigan, Past Commander-in-Chief Robinson, of New York, and Congressman Reed, of Maine, made brief addresses and were enthusiastically cheered.

The Relief Corps.

The National Woman's Relief Corps assembled at Mechanic's Hall at 9 o'clock this morning. It was entirely a business meeting. The following officers were elected for the National organization during the coming year:

President—Mrs. Sarah E. Fuller, of Massachusetts.

Senior Vice President—Mrs. Lizzie D. Alcock, of California.

Treasurer—Mrs. L. A. Turner, of Massachusetts.

Chaplain—Mrs. Annie Wittemeyer, of Philadelphia.

During the session Governor Robie, of Maine, and his staff and the Governor of Michigan, visited the meeting.

Up in a Balloon, Boys.

Just before 1 o'clock the wind having changed to a southerly direction Prof. George A. Rogers, of Boston, accompanied by George H. Knight, of Boston, completed their preparations for the balloon ascension from Lincoln Park. Several thousand people had congregated in the park in anticipation of the event. At about 1 o'clock the aeronaut cried: "Let her go" to the half hundred men who were holding the mammoth balloon close to the ground. All hands let loose and the monster went up and up some thousands of feet and then started off in the direction of [illegible]. Prof. Rogers agreed to take [illegible] the Associated Press [illegible] Bangor, which he thought he would do somewhere near Bangor before night.

OUR COLLEGES

Commencement at Bowdoin—Rev. W. D. Hyde Elected President—Professorships—Degree of LL. D. Conferred on Chief Justice John A. Peters and Associate Justice Charles W. Walton.

BRUNSWICK, June 25. Commencement day at Brunswick opened warm and clear. The Trustees and Overseers met in the library and chapel and transacted routine business. Dr H. H. Hunt was appointed Professor of Physiology in the Medical School. Three hundred dollars was appropriated for arranging pictures under the direction of Prof Johnson. Some of the paintings will be placed in Memorial Hall while others will remain in the Chapel. Two thousand dollars were given by Wm G. Means, Esq., of Boston, to fund a scholarship in memory of his brother, Rev James Means, '33. Prof George T. Little was appointed Librarian with the additional duties of Rhetoric. Rev. W. D. Hyde, of Paterson, N. J., was unanimously elected President of the college and Stone Professor of Mental and Moral Philosophy.

Degrees Conferred

The following degrees were conferred out of course: D. D.—Rev Sylvester Burnham. LL. D.—Chief Justice John A. Peters, Associate Justice Charles W. Walton. Ph. D.—James A. Burns, 62, A. B. William M. Baker, 47, Philip G. Brown, ... A. M.—Dr P. H. Ingalls, 77. Several ...of '82 received the degree of A. M. Prof C. H. Smith was appointed to deliver lectures to the Seniors on public and political economy. Prof Avery to perform the duties of Winckley Professor of Latin, with the assistance of a special instructor as a temporary measure. The boards did not feel justified in consenting to the removal of the Medical school to Portland this year.

Graduation Exercises

At 11 o'clock the procession under escort of the graduating class marched from King's Chapel to the church on the hill where the order of exercises of the graduating class was carried out.

Commencement Dinner

At the close of the exercises at the church the procession re-formed and marched to Memorial Hall where the commencement dinner was held. Rev. Egbert C. Smyth presided, and with Chief Justice John A. Peters, LL D., and Prof H. T. Chapman occupied the table of honor on the platform. Prayer was offered. The presiding officer spoke in very high terms of the newly elected President of the College, reading several testimonials to his great mental ability and his thorough-going manhood, and thought it would not be long before he would be seen in Brunswick as President of Bowdoin College. Speeches were made by Chief Justice J. A. Peters, Prof. H. T. Chapman, Rev. Geo. F. Prentiss, do, Mr Henry V. Poor, 35, Mr Wm. F. Spear, 70, Mr Charles N. Bell, ...and Hon John B. Redman. Many pathetic allusions were made in memory of Prof. Packard who presided at the commencement dinner of a year ago.

Reception by the Faculty

In the evening the faculty gave a reception at Memorial Hall to the graduating class, alumni and friends of the college. Eight members of the class of '35 held a reunion at the house of Mr. A. G. Tenney, of Brunswick. This is practically closing of the Commencement. The attendance of alumni has not been so large as in some previous years, but this is in a great measure due to the G. A. R. reunion at Portland. The week, however, has been very successful and may be regarded as a fitting close for the college year just ended. Following is the necrology for the past year:

BOLD BURGLARS

Landlord Quimby Robbed

AUGUSTA, June 25. Wednesday night between the hours of 11 30 p. m. and the following morning a burglar, by crawling through a transom, entered the chamber of the proprietor of the Hotel North, Royal Quimby, Esq., while that gentleman was asleep and secured from his clothing his pocket book containing $600 in cash, a diamond pin valued at $150, a valuable gold watch and chain worth $150, and a set of costly cuff buttons. Mr Quimby's keys and formula for safe combination were also obtained. Proceeding to the office the robber took $7 in change from the money drawer and opened the safe, but was unable to unlock the small steel chest therein containing $700, as no key would fit it. This was accomplished while the watchman was lighting the fire in the range. The watchman returned and was summoned to an unoccupied room in the upper story about five o'clock in the morning by the ringing of a bell, when the burglar is supposed to have escaped. There is no clue to the perpetrator of the robbery.

This agreement proceeds from the good will of the two governments.

COLLEGE RACES

Harvard an Easy Winner

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 25. The Columbia-Harvard Freshman race was won by Harvard. Time, 12 minutes 22 seconds, Columbia 13 minutes, 12 seconds. The time for the race was set for 10 30 this morning and at that time the boats were at starting point which was the two mile flag off the naval station.

After a tedious wait the boats got into line and the word "go" was given. At 11 15 both crews took water simultaneously with little or no splashing, Harvard rowing 40 strokes to Columbia's 39. Both crews kept side by side for the first 100 yards and then Harvard drew slowly ahead continuing to increase the lead to the finish. After rowing a quarter of a mile clear water could be seen between the boats. The Harvard freshmen then in imitation of the University walked away from Columbia. Harvard made the first half mile in 2 minutes, 54 seconds and were rowing a 34 stroke, Columbia in 3 minutes, 0 seconds, with a 38 stroke. Columbia held Harvard for a short distance but could not gain an inch on the crimson crew.

The race was virtually at an end, yet both crews continued to row in excellent form. Each struck up a 40 stroke and Harvard covered the mile in 5 minutes 5 seconds, Columbia in 6 minutes 22 seconds. Both crews made strong spurts. At a mile and a half Columbia had run her stroke up to 44, while Harvard held up to 40. Harvard reached the mile and a half in 8 minutes 57 seconds and Columbia in 9 minutes 37 seconds. Harvard pulled away for the finish in excellent shape, rowing 42 strokes with a spurt and crossed the line an easy winner, about 10 lengths ahead of the Columbia boys. The time was Harvard, 12 minutes 22 seconds, Columbia 13 minutes 12 seconds.

GENERAL GRANT

Dr Shrady's Report to the Medical Record

MOUNT McGREGOR, N. Y., June 25. At 10 30 last evening, when Dr Shrady started down to the Grant cottage, where he was a guest for the night, he found Gen Grant dozing. The General roused up, however, when the doctor entered and spoke to him about certain matters of fact. Dr Shrady to-day telegraphed to the Medical Record for its Saturday issue the following official bulletin of General Grant's condition:

The progress of the disease from which Gen Grant is suffering is, barring accidental complications, slow. Comparing the condition of the patient with what it was a month ago, the changes which have taken place can be appreciated. Taking this period of time into consideration it can be said that the swelling under the angle of the lower jaw, on right side, has increased and has become harder and more deeply fixed.

It has shown a tendency to progress in the direction of downward and forward upon the right side of the neck, infiltration extending into the neighboring glandular structures. The lancinating pains in those parts although fortunately not frequent nor severe, have a significance which cannot be ignored. The ulceration on the right side of the base of the tongue has become deeper and more irregular, although the superficial area has not perceptibly increased. This is the seat of pain occasionally in swallowing and when certain examinations of the throat are made. There is some impairment of general strength and some loss of weight although his appetite is unchanged and the usual amount of nourishment is taken. His removal to Mount McGregor has so far proved beneficial. It has enabled the patient to recover lost ground and thus in a measure counterbalanced the effects of his local malady.

A Comfortable Day Out of Doors

The day has been spent by Gen Grant practically out of doors. With Dr Shrady and his family he passed the afternoon upon the piazza of the cottage. The General to-day wrote much in a conversational way and during the day did about half a page of remarks on work in writing.

At 10 o'clock the General was put to bed, Drs Douglas and Shrady being present. Six minims of morphia were given. Dr Shrady thought the mucous secretions had decreased in twenty four hours. There had been very little coughing during the evening. His voice was the same as on Wednesday night and the doctors thought at ten o'clock the General would pass a quiet night.

DALLAS, Tex., June 25. The news is also confirmed from Burlington and Gainesville that about three weeks ago three horse thieves were lynched, making a total of fifteen dead outlaws to the credit of this posse.

ILLINOIS

The Alleged Corruption Case

SPRINGFIELD, June 25. The long-looked for report of the investigating committee was received in the House last evening. The committee says it had great difficulty in obtaining information about the charges made by Haines and the affidavit flourished on the floor of the House. When they called for the affidavit Haines had sent it back to Tubbs. That affidavit set forth that Baker had offered to defeat the telegraph bill for $25,000. Tubbs was finally got before the committee and testified that Baker had made such a proposition to him. On the other hand they have the direct denial of Baker. As to the truth or falsity of the charge the committee leaves it to the House to decide.

When the report was read Speaker Haines took the floor and defended his position, at the same time arraigning the committee for putting such a report into the House which, he claims, was intended to besmirch honorable members. He spoke for two hours and was followed by Mr. Baker who, in a few caustic remarks, characterized Mr. Tubbs, who accused him of trying to sell himself out, as an infamous liar and perjurer. SILVER WEDDING. A Springfield correspondent writes, One of the most interesting and happy social events which has occurred in this section for a long time occurred here Thursday evening, the silver wedding of Mr and Mrs Emery Johnson. More than two hundred of the most influential and respected citizens of this and surrounding towns were in attendance. As it was an occurrence of more than usual interest a more extended notice will appear hereafter.

PERJURY IS NOT PROFITABLE. A man committed to jail by the Police Court about the first of this month for drunkenness had a portion of his sentence remitted by the Judge last Saturday on his pledge of affidavit of whom he had the liquor which produced his intoxication. He made the affidavit, paid the costs and was released. Upon that affidavit the Sheriff took out a warrant against the parties named and the affiant was produced to prove the sale. He failed to support his affidavit stating that he couldn't remember about it—made his statements for the purpose of getting out of jail. The Judge ordered him recommitted to serve out his sentence or until he could remember. The court could not be trifled with in such a reckless manner.

AN INTERESTING RELIC. We were shown yesterday a silver Maltese cross which has quite a history. It is an army badge and was presented to Capt. Henry N. Fairbanks, of this city, at Portland, this week by Edwin H. Norton of Standish. Both belonged to the same company in the Thirteenth Maine and had not met before since the war. In the advance and charge on the rebels at Mansena Plains, La., both participated. The enemy when the charge was made were engaged in making coffee, and fled precipitately, leaving some silver spoons in some of the mugs behind them. One of these spoons Norton seized and has since had the Maltese cross, his army corps badge, made from it and has presented the same to Capt. Fairbanks.

PRESQUE ISLE NOTES. Our correspondent writes, The weather is cold and windy and the season very backward. The hay crop will be light as the grass is badly killed out.—Business is dull with no prospect of improvement.—Fishing parties to Portage Lake and other resorts are now in order. Some good catches are reported. The mosquitos and black flies are as numerous as ever, as the faces, neck and hands of the fishermen testify.—The closing exercises of the Easter term of St John's Classical School took place Monday and Tuesday. There was a large attendance of the friends and patrons of the school, all of whom were well pleased with what they saw and heard. The exercises were very creditable to all who took a part in them. Prof. Atwood, with his able assistants, is building up a fine school.—Presque Isle will celebrate the glorious Fourth by a horse trot, game of base ball and an oration by J. Manchester Haynes, of Augusta. A large crowd is expected.—Messrs. Johnson & Phair are erecting a large starch mill at Sprague's Mills in Easton, in place of the one burned there last season.—A large crowd is at work on the bridge to be built across the Aroostook river this summer. The contractors are T. H. Phair and Frank Smith.

OBITUARY. Mr. Prentiss Preble died at his residence in this city yesterday morning about half past four o'clock at the age of forty four years. Mr. Preble went home from his desk at the Bangor House on Thursday the 17th inst complaining of a sick headache. He has since been confined to his house but was not thought to be seriously ill and his sudden death yesterday morning was a very severe blow to his friends. Mr. Preble has lived in Bangor since he was a very young man. He was a soldier in the army and a member of B. H. Beale Post of this city. For the past twenty years he has occupied the responsible position of chief clerk at the Bangor House. Here by his quiet and accommodating ways he made a friend of every man with whom he became acquainted. Mr. Preble was a very faithful clerk and he will be greatly missed by the proprietor of the hotel and by the travelling public generally. His many acquaintances sympathize sincerely with his bereaved widow and four children.

GOOD TEMPLARS. A correspondent writes: M. J. Dow, of Brooks, Grand Worthy Counsellor, is now at his home but will attend to correspondence, visit lodges or speak at public meetings in the interest of the order whenever he can consistently do so. While the summer is much the hardest time for the lodges, yet many of them sustain the interest through out the entire season. There are now thirty three lodges in Penobscot county. The competitive system or choosing sides and making a specialty of literary exercises is proving very beneficial in many places, the young people especially taking much interest in the work. If the young people are to be drawn into the lodges and retained there the lodge room must be made attractive. One need of the hour is education of the young in temperance principles, and these exercises can be made a means to accomplish this end. Temperance literature can now be readily and cheaply obtained, and the press of the State courteously publishes all items in regard to the work of the various organizations engaged in the temperance cause. As the busy season approaches the entertainments should be made more attractive so that the interest of the members may be sustained.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION. The Penobscot Ministerial Association will hold its next session at Hampden beginning Monday evening June 29th, and ending Wednesday, July 1st. Preaching Monday evening by W. H. Crawford, alternate, A. J. Lockhart. Preaching Tuesday evening by A. S. Ladd; alternate, G. G. Winslow. Tuesday forenoon organization at 9 o'clock, at 9.30 programme opened. ## AMUSEMENTS.

Bennett & Moulton Opera Company.

The sale of seats for next week's opera will open at the box office this morning. The following notice of the "Chimes of Normandy" is from the Springfield Daily News of June 5th.

Another crowded house greeted the Bennett & Moulton Opera Company last night and nearly every seat is sold for to-night and to-morrow. Many have expressed a desire for the company to remain another week, but owing to a previous date it will not be able to do so, but the manager will no doubt return soon again. Miss Fairbairn completely captivated the audience last night with her "Serpolette," which may be said to be her masterpiece. She carried the house with her until E. P. Smith reached his crazy scene when the best piece of acting that has been seen on the opera house stage since young Boucicault's "Danny Mann," was done. The "Germaine" of Mamie Upton showed her superb versatility in comparison with her pirate maid-of-all-work the previous night. The rest of the young ladies are gifted with many charms and talents and will be remembered here when they return in leading roles.

The project is discussed of the construction of water works at Presque Isle.

Interesting Class Day Exercises and a Description of the Parts Given—The Class Ode and the Beautiful Music—Smoking the Pipe of Peace and Shaking of Hands—The Q. T. V. Reunion Tuesday Evening.

The Orono Town Hall was again filled with people yesterday afternoon to listen to the Class Day exercises of '85. The only addition made to the beautiful hall decorations of the preceding day was a large semi-circle made of evergreens, standing in the recess at the rear of the stage and upon which was the class motto, "Onward and Upward." Shortly after two o'clock the class, headed by the Marshal, Mr Frank E. Hull, marched upon the stage and took seats. The exercises then began and were carried out according to the following

After the overture the President of the class, Mr E. O. Goodridge, stepped to the front of the stage and announced the programme for the exercises and introduced the class orator, Mr George F. Hanscom, who proceeded to deliver his oration on "The Responsibilities of Young Men." He began by relating the old Oriental tale of the enchanted hill in ascending which every one who looked behind him was turned into stone. "Life is an enchanted hill," the speaker said, and he proceeded to carry out the illustration so aptly drawn. He spoke at length upon character in after life being moulded when one is young and the power of association in the formation of a man's character. Youth is the time to prepare for mature years. Soon, into the hands of the young men of this generation are to be placed the interests of the State, the church and the Nation. The religious sentiment and its importance was spoken of and the speaker closed with a fine quotation from Prof. Huxley directly relating to the subject of which he was speaking.

After music by the orchestra History, Henry T. Fernald was introduced by the President and proceeded to deliver a complete history of the class of '85. The minutest points were spoken of in detail and the story of the various escapades of the class was made very interesting to the audience and especially to the alumni and residents of Orono. The speaker's closing was very finely worded, and he was greeted with applause and received handsome floral offerings. The President arose and alluded to the severe illness of the prophet, Mr. F. E. Manter, and announced that Mr J. N. Hart would read the prophecy written by the former gentleman. The introduction to this article was very ingeniously written and the entire prophecy was well received.

After the speaker had finished Mr. R. B. Hall gave a cornet solo, which was, of course, encored and the gentleman responded with "Annie Laurie." The address to undergraduates was an entirely new class day part and was well given by Mr Keyes. The three lower classes occupied seats in the front of the hall and gave good attention to the part. The subject of hazing was spoken of as was also the relations between the students and faculty. He said that every man should improve the opportunities given him by the institution in which he was a student. He then spoke a few words to each of the lower classes and gave them good advice in closing.

The valedictory by G. W. Chamberlain was a fine effort. It was splendidly written and the delivery was excellent. After a well worded introduction the speaker touched lightly upon the leading political questions of the day. Thought that the question of material progress had diverted the minds of many of our Legislators from the more important matters which bear a direct relation to the advancement of our country. Spoke of the progress of intellectual training as compared with material progress. The first part of the address would properly be called an oration and evinced plainly the ability of the writer. The parting words to the class were particularly impressive. He referred touchingly to the illness of Mr Manter and expressed wishes for his speedy recovery. The class was deeply moved during the closing remarks and many residents of the town in the audience were affected. The valedictory was very highly praised by all those who listened to it. When the speaker had finished the class arose to sing their

Air—Last Sigar

As classmates now we gather round
To sing our parting song
For now we break the mystic band
That's held our hearts so long
We've been together four short years
Those years so quickly past
We've sung full many hours away
This song must be our last.

And as we say our last farewell
Our final parting take
Before the shrine of Eighty-five
We this petition make,
Where'er we lay our future course
Upon life's stormy sea,
O spirit of old eighty-five
Our guardian angel be

The odist, Mr. L. G. Paine, led in the singing and Andrews' full orchestra played the accompaniment. The class sang excellently, the air being very pretty. The Pipe of Peace was lighted by Marshal Hull after the members of the class had resumed their seats. After puffing away himself for a sufficient length of time it was passed to the President and then to each member of the class in their turn. The audience applauded the amusing efforts made by some of the members to smoke. The Marshal had very little trouble keeping the contents of the pipe burning well. The hand shaking which followed the smoking was hearty and good byes were exchanged on all sides. Over each of the fifteen letters composing the class motto on the semi-circle at the rear a bouquet of roses had been placed and at the close of the exercises as the class marched off from the stage, finally each of the fifteen members took one of the bouquets to be cherished as a reminiscence of the last time when they were together. The music by Andrews' Orchestra during the afternoon was very fine. The following was the Fifteen young men have graduated who, in the coming years, will do their Alma Mater credit and honor. We unite with their many friends in wishing them the same success in their future walks in life that has attended them throughout their college course.

ANNUAL REUNION

A correspondent writes: The annual reunion of the Q. T. V. Society occurred Tuesday evening. During the afternoon the Society Hall was thrown open to visitors who visited it largely, deeming this one of the attractive features of Commencement. A goodly number of the Alumni were present in the evening with the undergraduate members. The installation of officers occurred immediately following the reception at the President's. After the installation the members adjourned to the banquet hall where a collation was served and the following programme presented:

THE CATHOLIC SCHOOLS

The Closing Exercises of St. Xavier's Academy and St. John's School in City Hall Yesterday Forenoon. The Programme and the Excellent Rendering of the Parts—Awarding of Prizes—Full Report of the Exercises

The closing exercises of the Catholic schools occurred in City Hall yesterday forenoon in the presence of a large audience of the parents and friends of the pupils. The stage was very prettily decorated with flowers and plants and evergreen. Over the curtain was the motto "God and our Fatherland. Honor and Virtue." The rear of the stage was hung with lace curtains and presented a very pretty appearance. The children of the schools, fully ... in handsome white dresses occupied seats along the sides of the hall. Bishop Healy and Fathers O'Brien, Welch, Phelan, Butler, Darwin and Trudel, were seated at the front. The exercises began promptly at half past ten o'clock and the following was the

The choruses throughout were very pretty and the children evinced careful training and sang beautifully. The salutatory was very pleasantly delivered by Miss Mamie Herlihy. The piano duet "Silvery Echoes" was rendered in a finished manner by Misses Mary Feeney and Ella Conners of St Xavier's. In the drama "Who Shall be Queen" the principal part was taken by Miss Katie McLeod, a very smart little lady, assisted by a number of young misses from St John's school. Miss Mamie Hassett recited "The Sculptor" very nicely, her accent and voice having received good training. In the fairy operetta Tiptoe, Miss Rosella Cassidy took the prominent part and about fifteen misses appeared. The operetta was very pleasantly rendered and was received with applause. Miss Ella Conners and Ellen O'Connell from St Xavier's played the duet "Moonlight on the Lake" very finely. In fact the instrumental music throughout the forenoon was all most excellent. The trio "I Saw from the Beach" was sung in an almost faultless manner by Misses Annie Connors, Mamie Herlihy and Mary Feeney, of St Xavier's, and was followed by a recitation, "The Hours" by twelve little misses.

The dialogue "Kitty's Funeral" was a very amusing selection and caused much merriment. The principal parts were taken by Misses Katie Lynch and Maud Belcher. The comedy "Taken at Her Word" by the pupils of St. Xavier's, was well presented, the principal parts being taken by Annie Conners, Alice Collins, Mamie Herlihy, Mary Hassett and Mamie Feeney. The recitation "A Bevy of Ia (Lyas)" was given by twelve misses. The prizes for art work were awarded to Annie Smith for a table cover, Fannie Spellman for a sofa pillow and Mary Feeney for embroidery work. The prize pieces of work were attractively displayed in the front of the hall upon a table. Other prizes were awarded to Wenie Lynch, Mary Conners and Mary Dorsey. After the awards were made Father Welch arose and made a very pleasing speech, dismissing the assembly. He announced Monday September 7th as the date for the commencement of the fall term and in closing wished the pupils a pleasant vacation. The exercises of the entire forenoon were very satisfactory. The large audience in attendance gave the strictest attention and often applauded the well rendered parts. All of the little misses acquitted themselves finely and the careful training that they had received was very evident. To the Sisters is due all credit for this work. They were present and it must have been very gratifying to them to see how well their pupils performed the various parts assigned them.

Pushaw Pond and "Murry's."

Yesterday afternoon in company with some friends, the writer took a ride out to Pushaw. The afternoon was a delightful one, and many teams, large and small, went out laden with their burthen of pleasure seekers. The day was one of the loveliest of June and the view on every hand was delightful. Alighting at Murry's we were pleased to note the great improvements made and being made by Mr. Murry in and around what was formerly the Porch House. The handsomely terraced grounds first attracted our attention, and next that the knoll south of the house had been graded, levelled off and sown to lawn grass to make a play-ground for children. The new avenue, running from the house to the lake, is being made, and when completed with its rows of shade trees, wide lawn borders and beautiful flower beds, it will be "a thing of beauty" as well as a much needed convenience.

Inside the house, new paint, new paper, new furniture and a thorough renovation have put everything in first class shape, while the outside has been painted in handsome shades. The kitchen, pantries, closets, etc., showed the neatness which characterizes everything under Mr. Murry's charge, and gave anticipation of a splendid supper, furnished at a later hour, which were more than realized.

Although attending to the wants of callers, the house is not yet fully opened to the public, as the formal opening will take place on Wednesday next, July 1st. Mr Murry is ably assisted in the management of the house by Mr. F. O. Collins of Hancock, who we predict will make hosts of friends during the coming season.

Seeing the beautiful little steamer Isaac Capt Hopkins lying at the wharf, we stepped on board and after examination were ready to endorse what was said by the State Steamboat Inspectors after their official examination—that no steamer examined by them had passed a more satisfactory examination.

A trip up the lake as far as New ... Landing upon which beautiful spot several Bangor gentlemen have erected and are erecting cottages, proved that her working and sailing qualities equalled her fine appearance. Capt Hopkins who was her builder is well as her master, is assisted by Mr Wilson as engineer. The boat will carry forty persons comfortably and is allowed to carry fifty.

With the steamer the fine fleet of row and sail boats that attracted us of the fall, and the excellent ... of Mr. Murry's there will doubtless be a large number of visitors at Pushaw this season. ... making a delightful excursion at small expense and with little expenditure of time.

PENOBSCOT INDIANS.

The following report to Gov. Bowdoin is from General Benjamin Lincoln, one of the commissioners appointed by Massachusetts "to enter into negotiation with the chiefs, and if practicable, to settle and fix their boundaries, and agree upon the price to be paid for an adjustment of their claim to the residue." As one step towards it, he came with a propitiatory offering. Dr. J. F. Pratt, of Chelsea, Mass., who copied it from the records of Massachusetts, says the paper No. one, could not be found. Numbers two, three and four were sent, and will be published hereafter. Mr. Trent referred to, was Major Robert Trent, a large trader with the Indians.—E. F. D.

BOSTON, Nov 10th, 1786.

Dear Sir—In obedience to your Excellency's commission with which I was honored on the 17th ult., I received into my possession the blankets, powder, balls and flints ordered by the General Court of this Commonwealth to be delivered to the Penobscot tribe of Indians, and proceeded with those articles to Penobscot. On my arrival in that bay I was informed that it was probable I might find, as I afterward did find, Orono, the senior chief of the tribe, on White Island. By him I learned that the tribe was in general out on their winter's hunt, and that they could not be collected until the spring. This information was very embarrassing as I was at the same time convinced that many of the tribe were poor and naked, and probably would suffer from the want of the several articles intended for them. This led me to adopt a resolution to leave the articles that they might be delivered should the Indians return sooner than was expected, as I had afterward reason to believe they would, and that this would be a fall hunt only, beside as some of the very aged and poor were behind an opportunity thereby would be given to relieve them, which to do seemed now not only to be an act of justice but of charity. My knowledge of the abilities, integrity, fortune and the attention to business of Mr. John Lee, of Mayor-biguaydu(ce), determined me in favor of placing the goods in his hands. In paper No. 2 are my instructions to him and his receipt for the goods. No. 2 is a copy of the quit claim the Indians are to sign. No. 3 is the copy of a letter to Mr. Benjamin York who has burnt all the Indian buildings on White Island and has cut a large quantity of wood thereon. No. 4 is the copy of a letter to Mr. Trent who lives near one of the Indian towns and speaks their language. I thought it of some importance for him to be possessed of the facts I mentioned to him, as he probably, from his connexion with the Indians, would have an opportunity of corresponding with many of them soon. In this way I hoped they would be collected before winter.

I hope, sir, that the measure which I have pursued will meet your Excellency's approbation, or, at least, that you will be persuaded that what has been done was the best I could do, all circumstances considered. Should anything occur to your Excellency's mind which will more effectually or more (?) carry into effect the resolve of the court, I shall be happy in having it suggested, and if in my power to execute, it shall be punctually attended to.

I have the honor of being with great esteem, your Excellency's most obedient and most humble servant,

(Signed) B. LINCOLN.

His Excellency
Governor Bowdoin.

Bowdoin College

Abstract of Prof Smyth's Alumni address upon Prof. A. S. Packard.

From the rock by the sea on which our revered teacher sat for a moment ere his mortal strength failed, a monument is rising of stones deposited in token of esteem by visitors as they pass. The only adequate commemoration of Professor Packard's service would be for the thousands of his pupils each to testify what he received. He knew personally almost every graduate of the College from the beginning. He united us all. He was a representative of what the college had stood for during the century. It was as natural to expect to meet him here as to see the chapel spires or the Thorndike oak. Even while he was with us the muse of Longfellow immortalized his "faithful service."

"Dignum laude virum musa vetat mori."

The public press, the pulpit, numerous associations of Alumni, have paid just tribute to his memory. He left no private records, nothing to be revealed. But the memory of those we honor and love is an exhaustless fountain. The lightest touch is enough where the chord is electric.

The Germans have a saying that a man cannot be too careful in the selection of his parents. Our Professor was well born, his father was a soldier in the Revolutionary war, a graduate of Harvard, where he was a tutor four years, a devoted christian minister, an early trustee of Bowdoin, a teacher while a pastor, a man of great practicality, industry, method and varied usefulness. His wife was a daughter of Rev. Alpheus Spring of Kittery, a woman of superior powers. Six of her sons entered Bowdoin. Wiscasset, the early home was the most important town east of Portland. The homestead was in the midst of striking scenery. The old Lincoln county was like the marches of England and Scotland, no other region in this country appeals more powerfully to the historic imagination or more distinctly reflects the great stages and movements in the progress of civilization. It has been the scene of wars of races, of thrilling personal adventures. Everywhere are suggestions of remote antiquity, of dusky populations. With the rise of civilization came in the adventurous, the stalwart and brave of every commercial nation. The county was a school in history and it is no wonder that our Professor became a promoter of historical studies.

After sketching these influences of home society and early training, Professor Packard's long service to the college was exhibited in connection with the chairs he filled. Greek and Latin languages, and Literatures, Rhetoric and Oratory, Natural and Revealed Religion, also his services in the cause of popular and collegiate education as a preacher, author, librarian, associate member of the Maine Historical Society, acting President of College. His most conspicuous moral trait was utter fidelity—with this was connected constant growth. His life was wholesome to all, consecration to unselfish and noble ends, and the law, he who serves shall reign,—here him to his throne. Dr. Nott appreached but did not fulfil his term of service. In England the famous Dr. Routh slightly exceeded it. Professor Packard was an officer of Bowdoin College sixty five years, without absence or interruption. He sleeps in the model pine-girt cemetery with M. Keen and Appleton and colleagues and friends of many years.

"Where the shade
He loved will guard his slumbers night and day,
... Fitting close
For such a life! His twelve long sunny hours
Bright to the edge of darkness, then the calm
Repose of twilight and a crown of stars."

McCullough's Weak Mind.

EVIDENCE THAT HIS MENTAL STRENGTH IS FAILING.

A Philadelphia despatch says: Mrs. McCullough, who resides on Thompson street, east of Frankford avenue, has returned from New York, where she had been to see her husband, John McCullough, the tragedian, whose recent actions have caused much apprehension to his friends. She stated that she saw her husband at the St. James Hotel. "He appeared to me," said she, "to be unchanged since I had last seen him in Philadelphia some time ago. One can't judge, though, as to whether he is better or worse, for one moment he talks as intelligently as any one, and the next he wanders off almost incoherently. We had talked together but a few minutes, when he turned to me and said: 'Well, you are going home. I'll be over to-morrow for sure!' I have no idea that he will come. One might have imagined from the way in which he spoke to me that we had been together for months instead of only for a few minutes.

He spends his time wandering aimlessly among the hotels, meeting old friends and talking old times. He will meet a friend, chat with him a moment, and suddenly leave him with the most astonishing abruptness. There is no doubt that his condition is becoming worse. It can't help becoming so, living as he does, with everything to encourage the development of his complaint. But what can I do? Nothing that would avail anything. If I could have my way, he would now be at home and constantly under watchful eyes. But he will not come. He prefers a wandering life without any restrictions. Whenever he comes home he will not stay. Just when I think he is settled, off he goes. I don't know what I can do with him. So long as he remains in New York, Mr. Conner, who was so long with him, looks after him. Of course this is a great consolation to me, but it does not entirely relieve my mind. I am constantly in dread of hearing of something happening to him. Personally I have no hope of being able to do anything with him. If he becomes violent or obstreperous in New York, I suppose his friends there will see that he is confined.

I believe that if he led a quieter life, and subjected himself to regular habits, and the discipline of home life his mind would speedily improve. Of this I feel assured; but there is no convincing him that his mind is other than right. There is the whole trouble. It was only a few weeks ago that he insisted on acting at a benefit in New York. His friends knew that he was not in the condition to appear, but they went on with the arrangements, hoping to convince him of his mental weakness. The world knows the result—he was unable to appear. That did no good though, for he still insisted that his mind was unimpaired, that his failure was due to sudden illness. If he could be convinced that his mind is weak, I believe that we could do something with him."

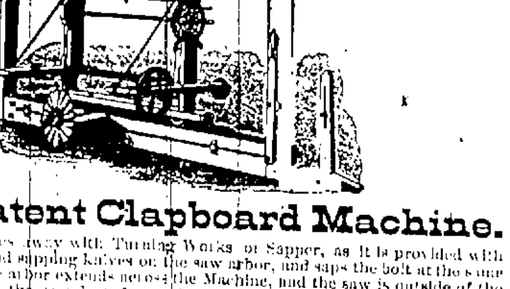
HINCKLEY & EGERY IRON COMPANY.

MANUFACTURERS OF THE



Davis Patent Clapboard Machine.

The Davis Patent does away with Turning Works or Sapper, as it is provided with three sets of collars and sapping knives on the saw arbor, and saps the bolt at the same time it is sawing. The arbor extends across the Machine, and the saw is outside of the frame, which prevents the saw-dust from clogging the gearing, and, in changing saws, you simply take the nut off end of arbor, and remove collars and saw without disturbing arbor.

The saw runs 2200 revolutions per minute, and the Machine will cut from 5 to 6 M. per day, an average of 500 per day over the old style machine.
